IBM

Whitlock works with IBM on video solutions for key locations where innovation counts.

IBM needs no intro as one of the most progressive and tenured high tech companies that help push us forward towards building “a smarter planet.” We understand that IBM’s workspaces should reflect the same level of innovation, passion and market leadership that their brand represents.

Whitlock helps IBM behind the scenes by building collaborative environments for videoconferencing, team meetings, global communications and knowledge sharing. We have assisted their teams with video solutions in a number of innovation centers nationwide, with the most recent being a bold refresh in the Silicon Valley.
